About the presenter:

Joanne Hindley is one of the founding members of the Manhattan New School in New York City. To her important work at this public elementary school, Joanne brings many years experience as a teacher of various elementary grades, as a staff developer and literacy coach in grades k-6, and as a co-leader of the Teachers College Writing Project. Joanne often serves as a consultant to school districts throughout the United States, conducting demonstration lessons, leading workshops, and delivering keynote addresses. She has presented many times at NCTE, IRA, NYSRA, and numerous colleges and universities across the country including Teachers College, Pennsylvania State University, Adelphi, and American International College.

Joanne is the author of In The Company of Children (Stenhouse), an educational book about creating and maintaining successful reading and writing workshops. She has also been published in The Horn Book, School Talk, and The New Advocate. Joanne's classroom is the subject of a series of videotapes entitled Inside Reading and Writing Workshops also available through Stenhouse Publishers. As a member of the Elementary Steering Committee of NCTE, Joanne served as the editor of School Talk magazine for 2 years.

During the summer months, Joanne can be found teaching at summer literacy institutes throughout the country from Boston, Massachusetts to Seattle Washington.

Here is some feedback from Joanne's workshops:

"Joanne's workshops are grounded in the lives of real children. She knows how to create an effective classroom for thirty wonderfully diverse children, who demonstrate an incredible range of needs, strengths, and interests. Above all, in both her writing and her presentations Joanne makes teachers proud to be teachers. What more is there to say?"

Shelley Harwayne
Author of Lasting Impressions, Heinemann

"Joanne is a real teacher's teacher. It's such a pleasure to listen to a presenter who has first hand knowledge of what we are trying to accomplish in our classrooms." 4th grade teacher, Chicago, Illinois

"My expectations for this workshop were met above and beyond what I expected. I'm anxious to get back to my classroom and use all that I've learned!" 3rd grade teacher, Peekskill, New York

"Joanne's inviting workshops provide a wealth of practical information, presented in a friendly, inviting format." 5th grade teacher, Yorktown Heights, New York
